Camping

For the first 5km follow the dirt road that runs on the right bank of the Sarytag River. You'll pass the enormous wall of Sarytag Mountain. The track bends then bends to the south and devolves into a path along the Mura River. Shortly after the confluence of three small rivers (Mura, Zambar and Dikondara), head west, crossing Mura and Zambar. The river level can be quite deep, choose your crossing point well. After crossing the Zambar head south again for a couple of kilometres where there are good spots for camping.
